

MATH LITERATURE LIBRARY

Friday evening Math Bash session

GEAR UP Math Conference

January 2007

Presenter: Krista Damico

Creating Connections to Math Through Literature

Math & Literature

Sir Cumference & the First Round Table <series>

Go Hang a Salami! I'm a Lasagna Hog! - palindromes

Math Talk - poems

Math & History

What's Your Angle, Pythagoras?

The Librarian Who Measured the Earth

Sweet Clara & the Freedom Quilt

Math & Science

[Robert Wells series]

Is a Blue Whale the Biggest Thing There Is?

What's Smaller than a Pygmy Shrew?

Can You Count to a Googol?

How Do You Lift a Lion?

Sea Squares

Math & Geography

Nine O'Clock Lullaby

Math & Math

Tiger Math: Learning to Graph from a Baby Tiger

How Much is a Million?

G is for Googol

The Number Devil

-Countdown television episodes start with a riddle related to this book

→ <http://COUNTDOWN.LUC.EDU> offers Bibliography section

-links to shows that used books as basis for lessons/ concept development

Additional recommendations from conference attendees:

The Water Hole – great for science and math; animals and habitats

The Man Who Counted – history, geography & math; Arabian adventurer travels and solves math puzzles